WHERE LEARNING
BECOMES AN ADVENTURE

Head of School - Jake Imrie

Dear All,

MR IMRIE'S NEWS

It has been another busy week this week. We started the week with KS2 children enjoying an outdoor learning day at Seaton Beach. They created volcanoes in science, masterpieces in art and played beach rugby in PE. Reception children took part in the balance bike challenge at Lanhydrock. Well done for braving the bumps! Next week, our adventure trip is for Year 5. They are off on a expedition to Brown Willy, the highest point in Cornwall.

This week, our first P.T.A meeting of the year took place. We have lots of events planned for the coming term including a children's 'Neon Disco', an adult's Quiz Night and Christmas activities. The next P.T.A meeting will be taking place on Monday 12th November at 3.30pm in school. All welcome!

A reminder that next Thursday is National Poetry Day. We will be having a 'Poetry Jam' in school at 2.00pm which you are all invited to.

Thank you to the Year 7 children who came in to help out today as their school was closed for an INSET day. They even taught Year 5 & 6 a short maths and spanish lesson!

Have a lovely weekend,

Jake & The St Nics team.
